

The portal for Sustainability Reporting

sustainability-reports  com

Home

Annual Reports

News

Participation

Suppliers

Realisation

History

Organizations

FEE issues model disclosures under EU non-financial and diversity information directive

Source: FEE, 6 December 2016

With a new

Disclose what truly matters

Model disclosures under the non-financial and diversity information directive publication the Federation of European Accountants (FEE) provides practical guidance to companies that will have to comply for the first time with the EU Directive on the disclosure of non-financial and diversity information by certain large undertakings and groups. FEE applies the Directive's requirements in a 'mock-up' management report of a fictional company in the food industry. This will especially help companies without prior experience in reporting on non-financial and diversity information.

Around 6,000 European companies are affected by this Directive which Member States have to transpose into their national laws by 6 December 2016.

Disclose what truly matters – Model disclosures under non-financial and diversity information directive \(pdf\)

News

- Sustainability reporting frameworks lack comparability to attract investment, say experts
- Institutional investors want better disclosure of Environmental, Social, and Governance \(ESG\)
- IIRC starts feedback period for the International Framework
- Compliance Doesn't Cut It — A Promising Future For ESG Reporting
- Discerning taste: sustainability reporting for evolving audiences